RECRUITS FOR CUBA.

More Men Preparing to Help the Insurgents.

THE ENTIRE COUNTRY AROUSED.

Hundreds Have Been Enrolled and Thousands Are Ready and Willing to Go to the Front — A Report That General Maceo Is Not Dead — The Three Friends Safely Land Her Cargo.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 17.—Already over 300 Cuban recruits have been enrolled in this city, and B. S. Harriman, head of the local Libre movement, states that there are as many more in Kansas City and vicinity ready and willing to go to the front. The men average in age between 18 and 35 years, and are generally unmarried. The enrollment is going on in Harriman's office, and no secrecy of the purpose of the movement is made.

"Should congress take action," said Harriman, "that would permit armed men to go to Cuba without molestation, these men will be notified and sent in a body from Kansas City."

There has been some talk that two Spanish spies had recently arrived in the city. In this regard Harriman says: "Spanish spies can not stop us."

PRETEND TO BE BLIND.

St. Louis Authorities Will Not Interfere With Recruiting.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17.—In the house at 202 Elm street, in this city, a company is being organized to go to Cuba and join forces with the insurgents. Edward Hastings is at the head of the scheme, and is eager to join forces with the other Cuban sympathizers who are in the city. He has the names of 20 men who have joined his company, and thinks he will have 100 men before the end of the week.

Hastings visited the city hall to learn if the authorities would interfere with him. He was told that the blind could not see, and if he organized his company quietly, and did not make it too public no one would either see or hear of the movement.

NO SECRET IN THIS MOVEMENT.

TOPEKA, Dec. 17.—Richard W. Talbot, claiming to be an authorized agent of the Cuban insurgents, yesterday opened an office here, unfurled the Cuban flag along with the stars and stripes, and issued a call for 500 volunteers to take the field for Cuban independence. Thirty men are said to have already joined the movement. A citizens' massmeeting, at which Governor-elect Weyler will preside, will be held here tonight to manifest sympathy with the Cuban patriots. Several prominent Kansans will participate.

WEYLER HUNG IN EFFIGY.

WHEELING, Dec. 17.—Butcher Weyler was hanged in effigy at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning at Main and Fourteenth streets. Many people took part. Cuban sympathizers are holding nightly meetings.

CAN NOT ENLIST RECRUITS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The rooms of the Cuban junta were crowded all day by men anxious to enlist in the Cuban army. Delegate Palma's clerks have been unable to keep pace with the inquiries as to the enlistments and the subjoined circular signed by Estrada Palma was yesterday mailed to several hundred applicants:

"I beg to tender you in the name of the republic of Cuba my best thanks for your generous offer. Unfortunately, however, for your purpose, the laws of the United States forbid enlistments here for foreign armies. Should circumstances change, as I hope they may, your proposition will be duly considered."

MACEO NOT DEAD.

He Is Reported to Be Alive and Well in the Province of Matanzas.

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 17.—Passengers arriving here last night from Havana report that Antonio Maceo is alive and well and is in the province of Matanzas.

These passengers say that all of the festivities that were going on in Havana to celebrate his death have been ordered stopped since it has become known that he is alive.

THE THREE FRIENDS ESCAPED.

A Rumor That She Has Landed Her Expedition on Cuban Soil.

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 17.—The cruiser Newark returned to this port yesterday morning from her chase after the famous filibuster, the Three Friends. A few hours later the Raleigh returned empty-handed having seen nothing of the Three Friends.

It is reported on good authority that the Three Friends landed her cargo on the southeast shore of Cuba after a running fight with two Spanish vessels. A guard from Gomez's army received the cargo safely.

OUR CONSULATE IS SAFE.

Americans Are Safe in Havana According to Censorship News.

HAVANA, Dec. 17.—When interviewed, Acting Consul Springer denied the report that there are fears of an assault on the American consulate.

Upon the streets of Havana today there is no feeling manifest against Americans, and the news that the consulate is liable to be attacked is everywhere discredited.

Consul General Lee is expected to arrive here before Monday, but no definite news of his departure from New York has been received.

Nothing has been heard of the Three Friends. If she has landed on Cuban soil, which seems likely, it is without the knowledge of the Spanish authorities in Havana.

There is no truth in the report sent to the United States from Madrid that General Marin, governor of Porto Rico, is to relieve Captain General Weyler. The latter has not yet resigned nor does he think of resigning, and he has the confidence of the queen.

SQUADRON WARMING UP.

The Coast of Venezuela Isn't So Very Far From Cuba.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The flagship New York, which has been undergoing repairs in the Brooklyn navyyard, will leave on Saturday next for Hampton Roads. A supply of ammunition from Fort Wadsworth is to be stored into the magazines of the vessel as soon as she is taken out of her dock. This fact has led some of her officers to believe that the New York will not remain at Hampton Roads long, but will in all probability join the Raleigh and Newark off Key West.

The remaining vessels of the squadron now undergoing repairs at the navy yards will, it is said, join the squadron at Key West and the winter maneuvers will in all probability take place off the coast of Venezuela.

Admiral Bance has been away from the flagship New York for several days and is said to have been in conference with Secretary Herbert and the chiefs of the departments of the navy in Washington. Neither the officers of the ship nor those attached to the yard would be interviewed on the subject.

BRAZILIANS IN LINE.

A Great Meeting of Sympathizer With Cuba Held in Rio Janeiro.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—A dispatch to The Herald from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, says: A meeting to express sympathy for the Cuban revolutionists was held in this city, attended by 5,000 persons. Senhor Patrocino spoke. There was great enthusiasm and a motion was adopted asking the government to grant recognition of the belligerency of Cubans.

Other meetings will be held and resolutions of sympathy for the death of Maceo will be proposed. The police have been ordered to see that no demonstrations hostile to Spain are made.

Laurada Is Safe.

PALMA, Island of Majorica, Dec. 17.—The American steamship Laurada, from Palermo, has sailed for Gibraltar, where she will take on her cargo for America. She will not stop at Valencia.

ROCK PILE FOR TRAMPS.

Shelbyville, Indiana, Now Prepared to Employ "Hobos."

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Dec. 17.—The tramp nuisance for some months past has been almost intolerable in this place. The cause of this was the fact that most of the surrounding towns have "stone piles," in which they place their vagrants. This place has at last awakened to the fact that something in that line would have to be done. The city council has entered into a contract with the county commissioners whereby all prisoners can be kept in the county jail at the expense of the city.

A "stone pile" ordinance has been passed by the city, and the town is now prepared to put to work all the tramps that come this way. Yesterday three men were arrested, and on the plea of being vagrants, they were each sentenced to 18 days on the "works" by the mayor. The men went to work industriously, and soon attracted a crowd. In case the prisoners refuse to work they are placed in solitary confinement, with a diet of bread and water. Every "hobo" that comes this way will now be put on the "stone pile" or locked in a dungeon. The people hail the reform with delight.

Hunting Ducks and Deer.

GEORGETOWN, S. C., Dec. 17.—The president and part spent yesterday morning hunting ducks on the southern extremity of South island, their reward being 100 birds, of which the president brought down 61. President Cleveland also joined in a deer drive in the afternoon, but none of the hunters got in a shot owing to the high water on the island.

Accident in a Tunnel.

RED CLIFF, Colo., Dec. 17.—An accident by which six men are believed to have lost their lives occurred yesterday afternoon in the tunnel of the Holy Cross mine near here. A blast caused a great fall of earth and it is believed the men are buried under it, though they may be simply imprisoned, in which case there is hope of their rescue.

Fifteen Lives Were Lost.

MUNICH, Dec. 17.—The loss of life by the explosion which destroyed the Von Cromer match factory at Aschaffenburg, was much greater than previously reported. Fifteen women and girls employed in the main building were killed, and many persons working in an adjoining building were fatally or seriously injured.

New Albany, Ind., Dec. 17.—John Hall of this city, who escaped several days ago from the jail of Jasper, where he was confined, awaiting trial for horse stealing, was caught at a farmhouse north of this city yesterday and returned to jail. He is 25 years old, but has already served three prison sentences for stealing.

DINGLEY BILL IS DEAD

Killed in the Senate After a Lengthy Debate.

NO CHANGE OF THE TARIFF LAWS

Useless For the Present Congress to Attempt Tariff Legislation, but After the Fourth of March a New Congress May Make a Few Changes in the Existing Laws—Senate and House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The session of the senate developed the most eventful and exciting debate that either branch of congress has heard in a long time. It brought forward the recognized leaders of the various parties and elements, including such conspicuous figures as Messrs. Sherman, Frye, Teller, Gorman, Vest, Aldrich, Platt, Mitchell of Oregon, Chandler, Hale and Allen who made statements on the leading questions which have engaged the attention of congress of late.

Not only were lines laid down on tariff and finance, but the debate partook of all the pent-up feeling resulting from the recent national contest. Often it was dramatic in its intensity and at all times absorbingly interesting to the crowded galleries and intent body of senators. Political differences came in for a fair share of attention and the names of Mr. McKinley and Mr. Bryan often were heard. President Cleveland also came in for a share of attention, Mr. Allen deploring that the president was a Republican, who rejoiced with Republicans over their recent mutual victory.

The debate came unexpectedly when Mr. Vest called up the Allen resolution for consideration of the Dingley bill, in order to make some remarks on it. Mr. Vest was in his usual caustic vein and his speech teemed with those graceful and catchy phrases for which he is noted. It severely arraigned the doctrine for protection, and derided the promises of prosperity held out, he said, by Mr. McKinley, which could not be fulfilled by levying more taxes on the people.

There were frequent sharp and annoying cross-fires between Mr. Vest and Messrs. Aldrich, Chandler and Frye. The debate advanced to a more acute stage when Mr. Allen with his usual bluntness began to question Mr. Chandler as to the future of the Dingley bill. He asserted that the Republicans had no need to fear opposition from the president who had "gone over body and soul to the Republican party."

This brought forward Mr. Sherman and Mr. Teller. The Ohio senator spoke with deep earnestness declaring that it was a crime for congress not to give the government ample revenue for needed expenditures. He characterized the silver substitute to the Dingley bill as a measure designed to cripple legislation and obstruct the operations of the government. He approved Mr. Cleveland's course in issuing bonds to maintain the gold reserve.

Mr. Teller followed pointing out the futility of urging the Dingley bill. As to future tariff legislation, he reserved his judgment on it until the measure was presented and its merits considered.

Mr. Gorman also pointed out the uselessness of urging the Dingley bill, conceding, however, that after March 4 next, the Republican senators would be in sufficient strength to pass a tariff bill. As to the course on the Democratic side, he said he anticipated no obstruction to such a measure beyond an insistence on reasonable debate.

Throughout the debate, the sentiment had prevailed that the Dingley bill was dead and to give this final and apparently official sanction, Mr. Platt of the finance committee announced that no effort would be made to urge that bill to passage. Thereupon Mr. Sherman promptly arose and said that in view of what had been said, he acquiesced in the general sentiment that no further effort should be made on the Dingley bill. This was regarded as the final disposition of the bill.

This closed the exciting debate, and on motion of Mr. Quay (Rep., Pa.), the senate, at 4:32 p. m., went into executive session and soon adjourned.

During the morning hour the bill was passed extending the time for building a bridge over the Missouri river at Lexington, Mo.

The pension appropriation bill was then taken up and after a brief discussion was passed as it came from the house. It now goes to the president.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The day in the house was productive of little progress. The army appropriation bill was under discussion, but a deadlock occurred over the proposition for the abandonment of the army and navy hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., and the house adjourned.

Jean Cardinal Boyer Is Dead.

BOURGES, Dec. 17.—Jean Cardinal Boyer is dead. He was born in 1829 in France and was at one time doctor of theology and professor of dogma in the faculty at Aix of which he became the dean in 1870. He succeeded to the bishopric of Clermont in 1879 and in the consistory of July 3, 1882, Pope Leo conferred upon him the decoration of pallium. He was created a cardinal at the consistory of Nov. 2, 1895.

Election in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Dec. 17.—An election was held throughout Georgia yesterday for four justices of the supreme court. The Democratic nominees, Samuel Lumpkin, W. A. Little, Andrew J. Cobb and W. H. Fish, were elected, practically without opposition.

PHILIPPINE REBELLION.

General Blanco Declares He Must Have 25,000 More Soldiers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—A dispatch to The Herald from Manila says: The provinces of Bulacan, Cavite and Laguna are still rebel strongholds. The Spanish garrison under General Aguirre holds the town and fortress of old Cavite, though surrounded by rebels except on the coast, which the Spanish flotilla dominates.

The situation at Manila is very strange. The citizens are living in a state of siege, but admirable order is preserved. Executions are of daily occurrence and cause not the least excitement.

The suburbs of the city for four miles away are subject to intermittent raids by the rebels, who, after exchanging shots with the Spanish pickets, retire toward Cavite, eight miles away.

The effects of the bombardments are visible on the outlying roads, which contain the luxurious residences of wealthy Spaniards and mestizos, which are all now deserted and the streets of the city are guarded by troops.

There is no panic and confidence is growing. Military bands play on afternoons, society takes its drives as usual and the cafes are thronged mostly by officers. The chief danger the Spanish dread is the spread of disaffection among the natives forming the third army of 2,800 men, all of Spanish origin. The latter are treacherous and disloyal, excepting in a few regiments, but they are excellent fighting material in guerrilla operations. They are hardy and brave and would be active and formidable foes for fresh European troops.

The Spanish policy is to await reinforcements before overwhelming the rebels. Aggressive movements on a large scale are not yet possible. General Blanco, in an interview, states that 25,000 more troops are coming, which is sufficient indication of the extent of the rebellion, which is supported by at least 100,000 active insurgents. Of these one-quarter are armed and used to solid earthworks, while many have only barbed weapons.

The leaders of the rebels are nearly all Chinese and mestizos. The latter display undoubted skill, while the natives fight well, though the Spanish troops make gallant attempts to dislodge them.

Only 15,000 to Be Sent.

SPAIN, Dec. 17.—The government has decided to send 15,000 soldiers to reinforce the troops now in the Philippines islands.

THREE-MASTED SCHOONER WRECKED

Her Crew of Six Men Rescued in an Exhausted Condition.

HULL, Mass., Dec. 17.—The three-masted schooner Ulrica, which left Hillsboro, N. B., last Friday for Hoboken, N. J., with a cargo of plaster rock, was totally wrecked on Nantasket beach just before noon yesterday. Captain John Patterson and his crew of six men were rescued in an exhausted condition after undergoing a terrible experience.

A furious northeast gale, accompanied by snow, struck the vessel before day light yesterday morning, and when off the Boston lightship all her sails were blown away. Captain Patterson let go all his anchors but the sea was running tremendously high and they failed to hold. The wind gradually increased to a hurricane and the thick snowfall made it impossible to see a vessel's length away. Mountainous waves broke over the vessel, thoroughly saturated the clothes of the crew. The temperature was far below the freezing point and the men were badly frostbitten.

At 10:30 the Ulrica struck on a big sand bar off the beach and in a short time broke completely in half. Several of the top spars went overboard.

The lifesaving crew of Stony beach, headed by Captain James, launched a boat, but could do nothing at first in the sea. The second time the boat had made considerable headway when it capsized, letting the crew into the water. They narrowly escaped drowning, but finally they reached the wreck and took off Captain Patterson and all of his crew who were lashed to the afterpart of the vessel.

The men were completely exhausted the hand sand feet of several being frozen. It was late yesterday afternoon before they were able to tell the name of their vessel and of their experience. The lifesavers themselves were almost exhausted when they reached land.

Praised With Gravel Roads.

BEDFORD, Ind., Dec. 17.—Since the building of gravel roads began in this county the experience of using them in foul weather has created a wonderful feeling in their favor. The county commissioners have just awarded contracts for seven different pieces of gravel roads, the whole aggregating an expenditure in excess of $25,000.

Farmer Makes Assignment.

LEBANON, Ind., Dec. 17.—Robert Perkins, a farmer of Clinton county has made an assignment here for the benefit of creditors. Richard E. Naven of Thorntown is named as assignee. The liabilities will reach $10,000. The assets consist of a 270-acre farm in Clinton county. Mr. Perkins formerly resided here.

LAMPS, new styles, and at prices to please, at Schatzman's, Market street.

MISS BESSIE MARTIN, one of the teachers at the Sixth ward school, lost her gold watch while on her way home last evening. Fortunately it fell into good hands. It was found by Master George McDonald, son of Mr. Sam McDonald, who returned it to her last night.

The prices Hechingen & Co. have placed on their elegant stock of clothing are remarkably low. Just read his figures named elsewhere. It is not surprising that people are taking advantage of this sale. It is a great opportunity to get the best of clothing for very little money.

YOUR trade, and especially your Christmas trade, is wanted by Cummins & Redmond, the people's grocers. If low prices are an inducement you'll deal with this firm. Their stock is the best, and a guarantee goes with every article. As to prices see the advertisement elsewhere.

MAYOR COX is in receipt of a letter from his uncle, Mr. George L. Newman, residing near Charlottesville, Va., bringing news of the destruction by fire of a fine barn and adjacent buildings, involving the loss of 20 horses, 10 cows, large crops hay, corn, fodder, &c., the property of Mr. Newman.

A SERIOUS affray occurred at the Fearis M. E. Church last Saturday night between George Brevard, Sr., and sons on one side and Robert and John Henderson and Jesse Cropper on the other. Bruce Brevard was stabbed in the back by Jesse Cropper and dangerously wounded. John Henderson was hit on the head by old man Brevard, and was thought to be fatally injured, but came around all right. Cropper has fled. The row broke up the services for the evening.

THE big cut price sale at John T. Martin & Co.'s clothing store seem to be getting the people considerably stirred up. Their store is continually crowded with buyers from our county and city, and all this week large delegations have attended the sale from Ripley, Manchester, Flemingsburg and Carlisle. Wednesday they sold eighteen parties from Manchester, Ohio. There are all kind rumors in the air as to why they are making such tremendous cuts in prices of clothing, but the sale continues.

THE recent decision of the Court of Appeals on the whisky-tax law, declaring unconstitutional the law under which taxes have been collected, is going to change entirely the method of collecting the tax, and it is doubted by some if the State will realize the revenue that has heretofore been received from that source. Auditor Stone has received a copy of the decision, but will not give instructions to Sheriffs until after the petition for a rehearing shall have been acted upon. The State officers are of the opinion that the decision will drive whisky out of the counties into the general bonded warehouses and force much of it out of the State entirely.

A Card.

I wish to say to my friends and patrons that, owing to the hard times and slow sales, I have been compelled to assign my stock of goods, consisting of books, toys, millinery, dolls and notions. These goods are all new and fresh and will be closed out by the assignee at prices so low that none can complain. All I ask of my friends now is to stand by me as faithfully as they have heretofore. Come and see the stock of goods offered for sale, and I am satisfied none will go away without purchasing, thus enabling me to overcome the trouble that I am now in. Respectfully,

ANNA M. FRAZER.

MR. SABURO TOYAMA, a resident of Nagasaki, Japan, is in the city visiting Mr. D. C. Hutchins, Principal of the male department of the High School. Mr. Toyama is a fine specimen of the Japanese gentleman, and graduated in the same class with Mr. Hutchins at the Ohio Wesleyan University. He dresses like an American. It is so seldom a citizen of the little kingdom which so effectually and so brilliantly whipped the great Chinese Empire comes here, that Mr. Toyama naturally attracts attention. He has all the mannerisms of a gentleman of dignity and station.

The sad ending of those two young men which occurred in Maysville Saturday, December 12th, Hall and Willett, has cast a gloom over the community.

The women are busy now, spending the money they have gotten after disposing of their turkeys. As for myself I was not made as rich as some others, but will spare $1.50 to pay for the BULLETIN. Lady friends, will you not "do likewise."

OUR FRIEND.

A tragic death has taken our friend, Monroe T. Hall, from us. We were boys together and we desire to express this loving tribute to him who will walk with us no more upon earth. He was familiarly called Roe. Our comrade and friend was taken from our midst at the early age of twenty-two. He was as popular as he was young. Having a very social nature, with a smile for every one, no one need be surprised to hear that he possibly had more friends than any young man in the community. His genial manners and communicative disposition made him a welcome guest at all social gatherings, which in turn he was fond of attending. He had a noble nature and a warm heart, and in his loss we feel deeply bereaved. In his memory we will keep the flowers we wore at his funeral as long as we can. Our tender memory for our friend will far outlast the flowers. His comrades who bore his body to its last resting place are C. E. Staten and James Smithers, Charles Perkins and C. Keith, Wm. T. Daily and Wm. Semans.

"Good bye,
Excuse swells,
Sorrow indwells;
At last farewells,
Good bye."

Good bye,
On trembling tongue,
By grief unstrung
These words are hung:
Good bye."

LOVEL'S Holiday Specials!

WHEN other people were talking politics and prophesying that the country was going to ruin I was quietly taking in the bargains that were being offered, and as a consequence the late advance in prices of many articles has found my house loaded with the Largest, Cleanest and most Complete stock of every article in my line ever offered to the people of our city and vicinity, bought for CASH at rock-bottom prices, therefore I am in condition to offer inducements on every article with no fear of successful competition. It is impossible for me to give prices on every article I handle. This paper would not hold the list. It is sufficient to say that I cannot be undersold by any one, and I allow no one to handle better goods than I do. To the young folks I give a few prices:

4 pounds Best Phoenix Mixed Candy.	25 cents.
4 pounds Best Home-made Mixed Candy.	25 cents.

THE LATE FRANK R. PHISTER.

His Remains Will Arrive Here To-morrow and the Funeral Will Probably Occur Saturday.

Brief mention was made yesterday of the sudden death of Frank R. Phister, youngest son of the late ex-Congressman Phister. The remains will reach here sometime to-morrow, and the interment will probably occur Saturday. The funeral will be at the family residence; the arrangements have not been completed.

The press dispatches from Washington bring the sad news that deceased took his own life, a pistol being the instrument of death.

It was known by his relatives that he had been despondent for some time, but in his last letter, received a few days ago, he was more hopeful than for some time. His death is a sad blow to his loved ones, and they have the tenderest sympathy of their friends in their great sorrow.

An Important Difference.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not afflicted with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a costly condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company only, and sold by all druggists.

SPEAKING of the burning of the grand stand at the Bourbon fair grounds, the Bourbon News says: "A director of the society Monday told The News that it was not likely that the stand would be rebuilt or that a fair would be held next year. The association has lost money for several years and it is more than likely that the grounds will be offered for sale next spring to close up the affairs of the association."

Mrs. E. A. ROBINSON was very dangerously ill yesterday, but rested well last night and was better this morning.

THE sum of $2,304,000, taxes for the year, has been paid into the State Treasury. Less than $100,000 is yet due.

Xmas presents; we have them to suit you, also your pocket book. Call and see them at Chenoweth's drug store.

JOHN W. FOUDRAY, who was a candidate for Jailer at the recent Democratic primary in Fleming, died at his home near Tilton Sunday night, aged about seventy-two.

BURGLARS ransacked the residence of Mrs. Tenley, of Bellevue, one night this week, and stole, among other articles, a railroad mileage book belonging to Ray Tenley, the ball player.

SOME LESSONS

On the Tragic Death of Miss May Collins of Midway.

[Louisville Times.]

The morbid young woman who rejects the simple faith of mother and father, and with genius so inflamed that she can not sleep without potations of whisky and chloral goes on the warpath against christianity and the marriage relation, under the leadership of a divorced man engaged in the same wretched business, is not only very likely, but pretty certain to wind up sooner or later in some such way as did the late Miss May Collins, of Midway, Ky.

The New Woman may have the grandest intellect that some anonymous friend ever knew any member of either sex to possess; she may be chaste as ice, pure as snow, and all that, but when she takes to the road that Miss Collins took, she is going to find the descent to Avernus very like unto "shooting the chute."

Look At This.

Choice of our elegant piece goods, suit to order, for $25; second choice, $22.50; third, $20; fourth, $18. You know the cheapest goods we handle is $35 per suit. Prices are not considered in our cut price sale, but everything at these figures go for cash.

HANDKERCHIEFS make very neat and useful Christmas presents. Browning & Co. are displaying an elegant line and at prices to suit all. A big cut in jackets and cloaks.

AT West Union, Attorney C. C. W. Naylor, of Manchester, assaulted C. M. Burwell, editor of the Scion. Burwell printed accusations that Naylor had been stealing important papers from the clerk's office.

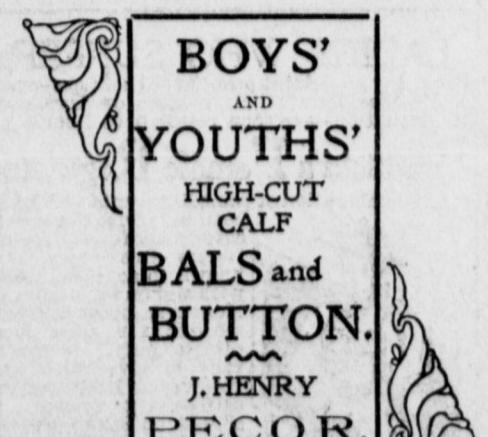

THE case of D. J. Hauss against P. E. Million and others, for the erection of an electric plant in Flemingsburg, at a cost of $2,500, to supply light to that city, was begun Wednesday in the U. S. Court at Covington.

Buy your Xmas presents at home, is the way to make times better. Let us show you our stock of cut and pressed glass bottles; pocket books, combs and brushes, perfumes, toilet waters, etc.

THOS. J. CHENOWETH, Druggist.

MR. EDWARD L. STANTON, of Frankfort and Mrs. Janie R. Rees, of Owenton, were married a week ago to-day. The bride was formerly a Miss Berryman, of Wood County. The groom is a son of Major Henry T. Stanton.

IN the U. S. Court at Covington in the case against Thomas Hardeman, ex-postmaster of Covington, for the recovery of $700 alleged to have been misappropriated by him and paid over to Lettercarrier Simpson, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the Government to the amount of $610.79. Hardeman was postmaster at that place under President Harrison.

An Old Lady Burned to Death.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 17.—With the upper portion of her body burned to a crisp and her clothing still smouldering, Mrs. Sarah Mullen, aged 60 years, was found dead last night by her 18-year-old son Edward. She was seated at a kitchen table with her head resting on her hands. Her clothing had evidently become ignited while she was building the kitchen fire and she became unconscious before dying. The position of the body aroused suspicion and the coroner is investigating the case.

Ex-Speaker Crisp's Successor.

ATLANTA, Dec. 17.—A special election held yesterday in the Third congressional district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles F. Crisp, resulted in the election of Charles R. Crisp, eldest son of the distinguished ex-speaker. Young Mr. Crisp, in response to a telegram from the Atlanta Journal, wired that paper: "I am in favor of the recognition of the independence of Cuba by the United States."

Marion Hatfield Hanged.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Dec. 17.—Advices from Sneedville state that Marion Hatfield was hanged yesterday for the murder of Jonas Trail. Five thousand people were present. Hatfield confessed, implicating his wife and a woman named Haney Jordan.

Refugee in the County Asylum.

LAPORTE, Ind., Dec. 17.—Dr. Reddington, formerly one of the best known physicians in northern Indiana, is now an inmate of the county asylum, where he will pass the remainder of his days. He has been stricken with paralysis and is a physical wreck.

Damages Repaired.

ELWOOD, Ind., Dec. 17.—The large shaft at the tinplate factory, which broke three weeks ago and caused five mills to shut down, throwing 300 employees out of work, has been repaired and the plant will be operating in full again in three days.

The Whole Family Held.

MILLVILLE, N. J., Dec. 17.—The coroner's jury yesterday in the case of Charles Jorio, Sr., brought in a verdict holding his son, Antonio, responsible for his death and the other members of the families as accessories.

Fourteen Lives Lost.

ROUEN, Dec. 17.—The French steamer Marie-Fanny, from Bayonne, for this port, has been totally lost off the island of Alderney. The captain was saved, but 14 members of the crew were drowned.

So Am I.

An elderly gentleman living in mid Lancashire was noted for his inebriety. On one occasion, when he had been imbibing pretty freely, he was met by the clergyman of the parish in which he lived.

"Drunk again, John!" said the pastor.

"So am I! So am I!" replied the truthful John, much to the amazement of his spiritual adviser.—Spare Moments.

Of the Earth, Earthy.

"No," said the gentleman who is fond of quoting texts, "I cannot give you anything on that account today. I know I promised you, and I am sorry, but man is naught but poor, weak clay, you know."

"I realize that," said the collector.

"I am glad you do, my friend."

"And I came around here in the hope of striking pay dirt, but I seem to have missed it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BLINDING BLIZZARD.
New York City and Vicinity Visited by a Snowstorm.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The northwest storm which struck this city about 10 o'clock Tuesday night grew in violence until 6 o'clock yesterday morning, a howling gale of 50 miles an hour raged, driving snow through the air with blinding force and piling it in drifts. The storm, which can not be called a blizzard, because lacking the element of cold, was the worst since 1888. At daylight yesterday morning five inches of snow had fallen and was being whirled about by the wind. As the day wore on the wind abated and the snowfall diminished. About 4 o'clock the sky began to clear and with nightfall the gale disappeared, moving on to scourge New England. About eight inches of snow fell. The lowest temperature reached during the storm was 23 degrees above zero.

Surface and elevated roads and ferries suffered much inconvenience, but now are running as usual. Fifteen hundred men are cleaning the streets.

A ample warning of the approach of the storm was given to the mariners and probably not much damage was done to shipping.

Three deaths due directly or indirectly to the storm have been reported up to this time. They are:

In addition to these William Beckley was found unconscious in a snowdrift in Jersey City so badly frozen that he can not recover, and George W. Fears was picked up in this city unconscious from the cold; he can not survive.

NO TIDINGS OF MISS DEKOKOI.
Parents Fear She Has Been Murdered and the Body Buried.

CROWN POINT, Ind., Dec. 17.—Miss Emma Dekokoi, the 18-year-old girl who disappeared from her home at Demotte, nearly two months ago, while temporarily demented, is still missing. Her father and neighbors have searched the surrounding country thoroughly, besides having expended considerable money in the larger cities.

They have about reached the conclusion that the girl has been murdered and the remains buried or burned. The parents are nearly distracted with grief, and it is feared that the mother will lose her mind.

River Covered With Crude Oil.

WABASH, Ind., Dec. 17.—The Wabash river for miles, east and west of this city, is covered with crude oil, which emits a powerful and very offensive odor. There have been times before when the stream carried considerable oil, but never before as now, and the water supply of many cities below here is endangered. The oil enters the Wabash from the Salamonie river, at LaGrove, this county, the Salamonie penetrating the oil fields.

A Burglar Captured.
HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Dec. 17.—A watchman saw a burglar cutting through the rear door of McClain's second-hand store late at night, and after the thief had entered the building, he called a posse and captured him. The fellow was arrested in the act of making up a bundle of watches and other goods valued at several hundred dollars.

M'KINLEY GOES TO CHICAGO.

He Will Probably Stay Until the Middle of Next Week.

CANTON, O., Dec. 17.—Major McKinley left Canton at 9:27 yesterday evening to join his wife who is visiting in Chicago. He was accompanied by H. O. Heistand, national committeeman; Charles G. Dawes, who remained over to accompany the president-elect, and the special newspaper men who have been stationed here for months. These newspaper men were so numerous that the railroads were obliged to supply a special extra car to supply orders for berths, although Major McKinley's only preparation was an order for a berth on the regular train.

The major drove to the depot shortly before train time and remained in the family carriage until the train pulled into the station. Then he led the party to the coach and at the door met his brother, Abner, who had come on from Pennsylvania to join the president-elect during the Chicago visit.

Major McKinley's object in going to Chicago is to find rest and change and it is his intention to do as little as possible and be as quiet as he can. He is almost sure to remain over Sunday. How late into next week he stays in the Illinois metropolis depends entirely on the degree of quiet and rest he secures.
